

Dear Rosary School Alums,

The 2010-2011 school year opened with excitement as the U.S. Department of Education 2009 Blue Ribbon Award flag was framed and hung in the entrance for all to see. The Blue Ribbon banners were attached outside on the gymnasium walls and the official plaque was in the school foyer. The students, parents and faculty all felt the wonderful pride in what we had accomplished at Rosary.

Our school had won this national award because of our overall performance. The committee credited Rosary with this honor because of the programs we have developed. These programs involve a family breakfast option for working parents, an leveled math program to help all students master basic math skills and then to move up quickly to their grade level, a physical education program that makes exercise fun and an after school tutorial and homework program that helps students improve their learning skills. You can be proud of your school.

Our attendance is 220 and we remain strong with the one classroom per grade. Our teachers are highly dedicated to the profession and to the students of Rosary and you feel the happiness when you walk in the door. Our hallways and stairways are filled with religious artwork and the words of our mission statement. Our weekly school masses are led by our students and the children's choir fills our hearts with adoration to God. Our academics are strong and our expectations are high for our students. Every child is encouraged to succeed. Please visit our website at www.rosaryschool.com and learn more about your very own grade school, Rosary Catholic School.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Karen Lynn, Principal
